Dear Colleagues

Welcome to our Interactive Course in Practical Neuro-Ophthalmology at Schloss Au (Au Castle) near Zurich, Switzerland.

We are very fortunate that Professor Jonathan Trobe from the University of Michigan agreed to give this course for the fourth time. He is tirelessly touring the world with his innovative teaching course with great success.

The course will be preceded by a symposium in honour of Prof. Klara Landau who will retire next summer. On this occasion, we will have an unprecedented line-up of international tutors for our course.

The course is designed for practicing ophthalmologists and neurologists at all levels. It will cover the most relevant clinical topics of neuro-ophthalmology in four blocks. Each topic will first be introduced in a plenary session and then further elaborated in small groups based on interactive clinical cases. The course is accredited by the European Neuro-Ophthalmology Society (EUNOS) and endorsed by the European Academy of Neurology (EAN).

We are looking forward to another inspiring teaching session in a unique atmosphere at Schloss Au.
